

CLAIM

What I claim as my invention is the use of a regular tape measure that is modified by adding a suction cup to the bottom with cross hairs on it that allows the unit to swivel when suctioned to a flat drawing surface, like a tabletop, using the extended tape as a ruler to draw multiple straight lines radiating off the pivot point for depicting accurate perspective drawings.